Program Information

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia designates this live activity for a maximum of 8.25 AMA PRA Category 1 credits™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AMA Credit Designation

The Section of Pediatric Dermatology of The Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia announces its fifth annual course on pediatric skin disorders oriented toward primary care clinicians. The 2015 course will be held at The Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia in the Col沁er Translational Research Building (CTR) Auditorium and conference rooms on Friday, May 1. The registration fee includes registration materials, breakfast, lunch, breaks and parking.

The course is intended for practicing primary care clinicians who care for children including, but not limited to, pediatricians, family practitioners, general practitioners, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, physicians in training and other allied healthcare professionals. Other specialties are welcome to attend. Participants will receive current information on dermatologic disorders in infants, children and adolescents.

Highlights of the course include:
• Updated information on pediatric skin diseases
• Case-based panel discussions regarding treatment strategies for common skin-related disorders
• Workshops, including more in-depth interactive sessions with experts in pediatric dermatology

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:
• Identify and manage common newborn skin conditions
• Diagnose and manage common pediatric skin conditions, such as acne, warts, molluscum, nevi and infections
• Review recent developments in optimizing sun protection and sunscreen use
• Identify and manage common newborn skin conditions
• Discussants: Patrick J. McMahon, M.D.; Marissa J. Perman, M.D.
