Course Information

Course Overview

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia's Annual Advanced Practice Nurse Conference is designed for nurses who work in pediatrics, extending their knowledge base in a variety of clinical settings. The conference is targeted to advanced practice nurses in primary care and acute care settings. Nursing, pharmacology and CEUs will be provided for all attendees. The American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation (ANCC) is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

Target Audience

This conference is intended for all nurses to gain a better understanding and improve excellence in their practice. Who should attend? The target audience includes nurses who work in pediatric specialties. The conference provides educational sessions to nurses of all levels who work with children and adolescents who present with complex medical conditions.

The Union League of Philadelphia is one of the nation’s most historic private clubs. The league was formed in 1867 as the Union League of Pennsylvania to ensure the policies of President Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War. It has hosted U.S. presidents, heads of state, industrialists, entertainers and visiting researchers, and has been used as a venue for many state, national and international conferences. The league was one of the first organizations in the country, overwhelmingly composed of men, to admit women. Over the years it has grown and evolved to become one of the most respected and respected institutions in the world.
