16 things you need to know about congenital heart disease

Worldwide, approximately 1,000,000 babies are born with heart disease each year.

- 3,760 babies die from congenital heart defects each year.

- 1,200 babies born with congenital heart disease are seriously ill each year.

- 40% of babies born with congenital heart disease are seriously ill.

- 60,000 babies born with congenital heart disease each year.

Throbbing with congenital heart disease.

- One-year-old's survival rate for open heart surgery is more than 95%

- 1,000,000 adults are living with congenital heart disease in the United States.

- 850,000 of these adults are adults over the age of 18.

Right by your side.

To learn more, visit heartscounts.org.